The recorder shall, at the stated assembly in May of each year, refer to the Dues Committee the names of all members whose dues are still unpaid. The Dues Committee shall make careful and complete investigation of each member referred to them and request such remission of dues as in their judgment is warranted, without mention of the names of the members involved. At the following stated assembly in October, the Dues Committee shall offer a motion that those members whose dues have not been paid or remitted shall be declared under the penalty of "Membership in Abeyance:" such a motion shall require a majority vote of the members present to be made effective. The members thus involved shall be mailed a notice to this effect and, if their dues are still unpaid by the stated Assembly in November, the Thrice Ill. Master shall, at that time, declare said members indefinitely suspended for non-payment of dues.
